Directions and access to Hilton Olympia

The easiest way to arrive is by underground tube train:

The nearest station is Kensington Olympia which is served by the underground district line and national rail. Kensington Olympia has about 7 trains an hour from Earls Court on the District Line, then The Hilton Olympia is a short walk. When you arrive at this station walk up to Kensington High Street and turn left. The hotel is the building on your left. 3 minutes

You can also reach the hotel from Earls Court station which is served by the circle and district lines. Exit the Warwick Road side of the station and turn right and walk up Warwick Road to Kensington High Street (past Tesco's) and you will see the hotel on the other side of the road to your left. 12 minutes

Another alternative is High Street Kensington station, also served by the circle and district lines.. Suitable for persons travelling from North London, Mainline stations. When exiting the station turn right to Bus Stops for buses number 9,10 or 28 to the Hilton Olympia bus stop and the hotel is just opposite. Walking turn left out of station into High Street Kensington, then a 10-12 minute walk.

Travel cards are also valid on the buses.

For Overland trains, possibly suitable for persons travelling from the south. There are three trains an hour from Clapham Junction to Olympia.

A taxi from the tube stations will cost in the region of £3 - £5.

Car

M40 to M41, straight across the roundabout to Holland Road. Follow the one-way system into Kensington High Street and the hotel is on your right. Not recommended as parking is very restricted and very expensive.
